

Corrie Marmol

Talent Scout

Profile

I have over five years of experience working as a talent scout. In this role, I am responsible for finding and developing new talent within the entertainment industry. This includes identifying potential stars, negotiating contracts, and helping to launch their careers. Throughout my career, I have helped to develop the careers of many successful entertainers. My work has been praised by both clients and colleagues alike. I am currently looking for a new opportunity where I can continue to help others reach their full potential.
